The first drawing by Mordicai Gerstein

Imagine you were born before the invention of drawing. Imagine wanting to communicate with your family and not being able to.

Some of the oldest drawings ever found were made more than thirty thousand years ago in a cave in southern France. In that same cave is the footprint of an eight-year-old child.

Alongside it, the footprint of a wolf. In the first drawing Mordicai imagines the discovery of drawing and inspired the young dreamers and artists of today.
