Do all Christians think the Christmas story is true?

Christians believe that the Christmas Story has great significance. Some Christians believe in the literal meaning of the story, and view it to be completely true as it was told, whilst others believe the story to have a more metaphorical meaning.

Why are there different versions of the Christmas story

There are different types of truth e.g. historical, scientific, personal (beliefs). There are different accounts of the Christmas story in the Bible according to different people. Many debate whether or not Jesus was born on the 25th December. One argument is sheep would not have been seen on the fields until the Spring period.

Islam and Christmas.

Muslims do not celebrate Christmas. Whilst they do believe in Jesus, they do not believe he is the Son of God. According to the Islamic religion, Jesus' birth was either in March or September based on the season indications in the Bible.

Judaism and Christmas.

Jewish people do not celebrate Christmas, as most Jews do not believe that Jesus was the Messiah, nor do they accept him as the Son of God. Instead, they celebrate Hanukkah. Hanukkah is the Jewish festival of light, and is the most public of Jewish festivals. It lasts eight days and is celebrated between late November and December each year, depending on the Hebrew calendar.
