Cinnamon is a story about a young blind girl who does not talk. Her parents ask others for help as they would like their daughter to talk. A tiger decides that he is able to help the girl and comes to the palace and is successful in helping the girl to talk. The girl is enchanted by what she hears from the tiger that she decides to journey with him to the jungle to continue learning about the world.

The styles of writing that are going to be used are adverts and diary entries and writing our own. An advert is an announcement which is published to promote something. An advert is a short piece of text which uses persuasive language in the attempt to get the reader to do as the advert is asking. A diary is a book where people write down their personal events and feelings. Diaries are personal to those who write them but can also help people understand past events.

Phonics

We need to be able to recognise all of the phase 5 graphemes. We can then use these to read many words.
